

Managing Parts with 'My Projects'

Project folders allow you to organize parts found through the PartQuest search. To begin adding parts to a project, you must first create a project by clicking Edit Projects in the left sidebar. Click Create New Project, enter a name for your project, and select Done.

The screenshot shows the PartQuest interface with a table of parts. The sidebar on the left has 'My Projects - Edit Projects' highlighted with a red circle. The table contains two rows of parts:

	Manufacturer Part Number	Manufacturer	Description	Digi-Key Part Number	Unit Price
Lead Free RoHS Compliant	XRCGB24H1000F0L00R0	Murata Electronics North America	CRYSTAL 24.00000-HZ 6PF SHD	490-5575-2-ND	$0.136	MOORE
Lead Free RoHS Compliant	XRCGB24H1000F0L00R0	Murata Electronics North America	CRYSTAL 24.00000-HZ 6PF SHD	490-5575-6-ND	$0.29	MOORE

The screenshot shows the PartQuest interface with the 'Edit Projects' modal open. The modal has a red header and contains the following text and buttons:

Edit Projects
Add, remove, and rename projects

New Project  Done Cancel

+ Create New Project

The screenshot shows the PartQuest interface with a message: "You haven't added any parts to this project". The message includes a folder icon and the following text:

To add a part to this project, start by searching for a product, and then click "Add to Project". You can also find a part by browsing by category.
